In today's competitive marketplace, business owners are eager to find the best ways to stand out, get noticed and build their brands. That's where Fully Promoted can assist. For more than two decades, Fully Promoted has been helping their customers get new customers! Formerly EmbroidMe, Fully Promoted offers a wide variety of marketing tools ranging from branded products and apparel to print and lead generation services. Fully Promoted retail or office location serves as a marketing resource for businesses and organizations who need access to marketing expertise. Fully Promoted provides a customized experience their customers value and that keeps them coming back.

COMPANY HISTORY

Fully Promoted is a proven business model, with locations around the globe. Fully Promoted is consistently ranked among the industry's top franchises, named year after year as a top 40 Distributor and in Entrepreneur Magazine as a top franchise. Founder and CEO Ray Titus is a widely recognized leader in the franchise industry with over 30 years of experience. He started the company in 1986 with the Signarama brand in Farmingdale, New York. He has now grown United Franchise Group to include some of the franchise industry's top-ranked, award-winning brands. United Franchise Group has over 1,600 locations in more than 80 countries.

The First Fully Promoted location, then known as EmbroidMe, opened in West Palm Beach, Florida in 2000, offering personal service with customized apparel and promotional products. While the pillars of the business remain the same today with branded apparel and products at its core, the brand evolved to provide additional services that customers value.

In 2019, Fully Promoted introduced Fully Promoted Office, which combines the best of both worlds - vendor accessibility and a host of quality services backed by the Fully Promoted name. Recognized worldwide for its wide array of promotional products, embroidery, promotional apparel, screen printing, and marketing services, Fully Promoted Office is being embraced by business owners. It is a great option for sales minded professionals to leverage their talents in marketing and customer service.
